No One Left To Blame

```
I:     A/E, E, A/E, E, D, E/D, D
       A/E, E, A/E, E, D, E/D, D
```

```
V:          A/E       E
       I'm so tired of waiting

       A/E         E           D    E/D D
       Waiting for you to come home

         A/E        E
       So I sit in the darkness

        A/E             E          D    E/D D
       And go  through my memories alone
```

```
B:        G                A
       But I feel just like a fool

         F#m7            Bm7
       For holding on to you

           G            A
       It's been over for so long

                      B
       But I still need you
```

```
C:     F#
       How can you tell me

         D#m7                  B  C#
       That life without you would be better

          F#
       When you're an addiction

        D#m7              B  C#
       A feeling I need in my veins

                    B
       And it feels so strange

       C#/B                           D#m7
       Every time that someone calls your name

                      C#            Bsus2
       Knowing that there's no one left to blame
```

```
V:        A/E       E
     I've been so alone

         A/E         E          D    E/D D
     I've taken some time to recall

                 A/E             E
     Through all the good times we had

       A/E         E          D    E/D D
     I never thought tears would fall

B:           G                 A
     Then the cracks began to show

           F#m7              Bm7
     And it came to letting go

           G                 A
     We just ran right out of time

                       B
     Couldn't make you mine

C:    F#
     How can you tell me

         D#m7                    B   C#
     That life without you would be better

           F#
     When you're an addiction

       D#m7              B   C#
     A feeling I need in my veins

                     B
     But it feels so strange

     C#/B                              D#m7
     Every time that someone calls your name

                       C#             Bsus2
     Knowing that there's no one left to blame

I:    A/E, E, A/E, E, D, E/D, D
      A/E, E, A/E, E, D, E/D, D

B:              G                 A
     For all the things we didn't say

           Fm7               Bm7
     There's just this price to pay

        G             A
     I'm left here all alone

                       B
     Won't you please come home
```

```
C:      F#
        How can you tell me

            D#m7                        B   C#
        That life without you would be better

            F#m7
        When you're an addiction

          D#m7                  B   C#
        A feeling I need in my veins

                        B
        But it feels so strange

        C#/B                            D#m7
        Every time that someone calls your name

                            C#          Bsus2
        Knowing that there's no one left to blame

C:      G
        How can you tell me

            Em7                     C   D
        That life without you would be better

            G
        When you're an addiction

          Em7               C   D
        A feeling I need in my veins

                        C
        But it feels so strange

        D/C                             Em7
        Every time that someone calls your name

                            D           Csus2
        Knowing that there's no one left to blame

O:      Csus2, Bsus2, Csus2
```